UTAH'S STRUGGLE FOR STATEHOOD. Seventh Constitutional Convention In Ser

sion at Salt Lake. SALT LAKE, March 4 .- The day for the opening of the constitutional convention is hailed with delight by the inhabitants of this valley, whose aspirations and constant endeavor for state hood have extended over a period of more than 40 years. The six previous conventions which met and did their work adjourned only to see their hope shattered and statehood defeated. This convention, like the six which preceded speedily follow the completion of its pence.-London Million.

The Seventh constitutional convention was called to order by Delegate Crane at noon today in the new city and county building with 102 delegates present, 57 of which are Republicans and 45 Democrats. Prayer was offered by President Woodruff of the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints. Secretary C. C. Richards then called the roll and the oath was administered to the delegates by Chief Justice Merritt. A congratulatory address was delivered by Governor West. A temporary organization was then effected by the election of the following officers: Chairman, James M. Kimball, secretary, Heber M. Wells; sergeant-at-arms, J. E.

The convention then adjourned until tomorrow, and a caucus was immediately called for the selection of permanent officers. Apostle John Henry Smith of the Third precinct, who has not yet received his certificate of election, is the choice of the Republican members for permanent chairman. The Democratic members had a caucus this morning at which the Hon. Moses Thatcher was complimented with a vote for chairman of the convention.

It has cost the Southern Pacific $26,100 per mile to build and equip their lines in this state and it will cost the valley company $10,000,000 to build to Bakersfield. The Southern Pacific is not building lines on any franchises it has in the San Joaquin valley nor does it contemplate any such construction. What a First Class Fare Means. There are some people who imagine that wealth entitles them to privileges not accorded to the general public and exempts them from obligations and rules that others are disposed to obey. An incident which occurred on one of our ocean steamers conveys a wholesome lesson to the purse proud contemners of the rights of the majority. A family of unlimited wealth had secured the best accommodation the steamer afforded. The gentleman and his wife kept themestimate, and it is stated that to plant the land under cultivation in the 48 children were allowed to run wild over drouth stricken counties will require in the steamer until they became such into aggregate 5,000,000 bushels. SILVER DOLLARS SCARCE.

A Bet Which Proved an Unexpected State of Affairs In Washington. A party of gentlemen were discussing the financial conditions a couple of days ago when one of them remarked upon the unusual scarcity of silver dollars in circulation in Washington. He stated that it was difficult to meet a person who had a silver dollar in his pocket, whereas a few months ago the cart wheels were more plentiful than the paper securities. His assertion was questioned by one of his companions, whereupon he remarked that he would be willing to make a wager of the cigars to prove it. "I will bet," he remarked, "that you cannot within one hour meet a man whom you know who has a silver dollar in his pocket." The other, who had an extremely large acquaintance, eagerly accepted the gage and took up a position down at the corner of Fifteenth and F streets. Every friend and acquaintance who came along was requested to exchange a silver dollar for four quarters. Scores of $1 bills were pulled out of pedestrians' pockets. but the man with the change wanted only the dollar of his daddies. At the end of the hour he paid for the cigars, because he found not a man in his quest who had a hard dollar in his pocket. I don't know the reason for the scarcity isdiction. He will ask to have the case of such coin, but its existence is beyond doubt. - Washington Star.

When we present the elephant in possession of such intellectual gifts as may be his, there has to be considered the case of the elephant that, being "must"—a disease akin to frensy—is for a time bereft of its senses. Vowels In the Hawaiian Tongue. The Hawaiian language is composed mainly of vowels and a few consonants put in to vary the monotony. And the beauty of the system is that there is no waste. Every vowel is pronounced. For instance, when the American eye winks at the appearance of the simple word "naauso," the glib native rolls out the five syllables with neatness and dispatch. This means "enlighten." Double vowels are very frequent, but never a diphthong. Three vowels are not uncommon, and, as above, four and sometimes more are found unseparated by consonants. In the mouth of the uneducated native the language is apt to be explo-sive, but the higher classes speak it with a fluent grace that surpasses the French or the Italian. In sound it somewhat resembles the general flow of the continental European languages, for the vowels all have the French quality, and the accents are not dissimilar.-Wash-
